Towards a Smart and Sustainable Nation

The 2021 IEEE International Conference on Service Operations and Logistics, and Informatics (SOLI 2021) will be held on 11 – 12 December 2021 as an eConference, organized by IEEE ITSS Singapore Chapter.

Service science, service operations, logistics, and informatics are playing an increasingly important role in today’s world economy. Information, communication and security technology provides cyber-infrastructure and platforms to achieve more efficient, productive and safe service operations. New types of service offerings are also emerging to meet the needs of Smart Nation. This conference will provide an exciting opportunity for the academic and industrial communities to address new challenges, share solutions, and discuss future research directions towards a Smart and Sustainable Nation.

Topics interested include but are not limited to the following:
- Architectures, platforms, and solutions of IoT and IIoT
- Artificial Intelligence in Logistic and Sensing Network
- Artificial Intelligence in Cyber Security
- Applications of Data Science in Logistics
- Autonomous Vehicle Technologies
- Big Data and Smart City
- Blockchain
- Business Modeling, Monitoring and Management
